Record Set By Crowd at Civic Dinner

The Sierra Madre Civic association held, Monday night, what was perhaps the largest civic dinner ever given in Sierra Madre, when a crowd of 219 persons were fed. The dinner was served by the women of the Sierra Madre Woman's club, who expect to use the profits of the undertaking for the benefit of the day nursery which they propose to maintain in connection with the club.

The dinner itself was well worth the effort. The ladies served a turkey dinner, with the fixings which go along with it, cooked in the manner which is recommended to produce good natured, contented and oftentimes at least slightly rotund husbands. The serving was done by a group of local bachelors who by their efficient service suggested possibilities as household utilities. (Chef Pete Becronis, who gave a wonderful demonstration of turkey carving, is spoken for.)

Essays Are Applauded

One of the most interesting features of the program was the reading of the four prize essays on citizenship, written and read by four pupils of the local school. The first prize was awarded to Frances Moote, the second to Olive Sedgman, the third to Jeanetta Yerxa and fourth to Dorothea Cox. The essays pointed out the necessity of voting at all elections, taking an interest in civic affairs, and keeping the homes neat and tidy, thereby making the town more beautiful. The essays were all well written, well delivered and show perceptions of civic responsibility that would do credit to people much older. The prizes were donated by R. B. Wilson, H. E. Allen, Robert Mitchell and Woodson F. Jones.

The first speaker of the evening was Senator J. W. Carr, who spoke on the subject of the Colorado river development project which is now under consideration by the Department of the Interior and in which all Southern California is interested.

Senator Carr told of the advantages of placing a dam in the canyon region of the Colorado by which, with comparatively small expense, the entire flow of the Colorado could be stored for a year and a half if necessary. Floods would be controlled by gradually releasing the water, the flood water would be conserved for irrigation purposes and domestic use, and the power development which would be possible at the dam would be great enough to nearly pay for the construction cost.

It is the plan, Senator Carr says, to bring the water to Los Angeles and vicinity through San Gabriel valley, making an aqueduct similar to that of the San Fernando valley. It is believed by many that this would have a tremendous influence in the development of the San Gabriel valley.

Irrigation in History

Major George Hull of Sierra Madre was the second speaker on the program. Major Hull is an engineer of international reputation and has been connected with some large hydraulic engineering projects in this country and in Canada.

Major Hull spoke of the advantages of the Colorado river project and entertained those present by recounting some of his experiences with irrigation projects along the Nile and in Mesopotamia. Irrigation is one of the oldest of sciences. Water was furnished in the Garden of Eden by irrigation, Major Hull says, for there are still evidences of the old canals which were used. Major Hull's explanation of Noah and the ark was both amusing and instructive.

Duty Is Re-Elected

The annual election of officers placed most of the officers in the positions held last year. W. E. Doty was re-elected president; Dr. William A. Tate, vice president; N. W. Turr, second vice president; W. S. Grassie, third vice president; W. J. Lawless,

ARMY OFFICER TELLS VALUE OF TRAINING

The reason why high school boys and some college students are still going around in uniform so long after the war is over was explained by Captain Hans Kramer, professor of military science and tactics at California Institute of Technology, at last Tuesday's Chamber of Commerce luncheon, at the Busy Bee Cafe. He first gave a brief review of the history leading up to the present Reserve Officers Training Corps as now well established in the leading secondary schools and universities throughout the country.

Military training was first introduced in the land grant colleges soon after the Civil War. The training was more or less perfunctory until a reorganization was effected under the terms of the national defense act of 1916. From that time up until we were in the world war in earnest the various units of the R. O. T. C., functioned more satisfactorily. The war required a different organization turning out partially trained men in greater numbers than was possible under the R. O. T. C. plan and the Student Army Training corps temporarily replaced the more thorough training system.

The experience of the late war taught the necessity of having trained men capable of training others for military service in times of national emergency. While sufficient men will answer the call to service they will be untrained and hence must be placed under instruction in the military arts before they may defend their country effectively. To fill that need the government is now training men at the various schools and colleges, without cost to the individuals or institutions, to be able to train others for service in times of national peril.

Besides the government's gain in peace insurance the individual student benefits physically and educationally. The training serves to build up the physique of the student by giving him regular beneficial exercise in the proper amount and teaches him to take care of himself under all conditions. Educationally, he is first taught to control himself and then to lead and direct others, to give and require service in accordance with his position. The subjects while taught in the military department, have direct useful applications to work in all phases of life.

Captain Kramer paid a fine tribute to Major Floyd, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who was one of his instructors while the Captain was a cadet at West Point. His remarks were received with every indication of interest and all left with a clearer understanding of the who, why and what of the R. O. T. C.

At this luncheon it was announced that until further notice the meetings will be held at the Sierra Madre Cafe, 10 W. Central, giving the two restaurants an equal chance in the matter of serving these meals. Next Tuesday's luncheon will be devoted to a discussion of the Mellon tax reduction plan.

treasurer; Mrs. Mary G. Clarkson, secretary; W. J. Lawless, parliamentarian.

The suggestion was made that the Civic Association arrange for a regular luncheon at the Los Angeles City Club, for Sierra Madre folks who work in the city. The suggestion was approved and a committee will be appointed within the next few days to arrange for the luncheons. It is the plan to have regular luncheons at the club for the convenience of commuters who are unable to attend many of the Sierra Madre gatherings or to keep in touch with Sierra Madre affairs because of the long hours they are required to be away from the town.

The entertainment of the evening was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hart. The child impersonations given by Mrs. Hart were enthusiastically received as were the accordion solos given by Mr. Hart. They were accompanied by Mrs. Hart's mother, Mrs. Jackson.

Sedan Rolls Down Canyon Onto a House

Ted Callis of El Monte and Miss Beatrice Marshall of Huntington Park, occupying a Ford sedan, rolled down a 60-foot bank from a Marlborough Terrace road into Sierra Madre Canyon last Sunday afternoon. Neal P. Olson was on a ladder at the side of his house and in the direct line of descent when the car started its tumble. That all escaped without injury was seemingly marvelous. The car body was badly damaged when it struck Olson's house and knocked out a part of the side wall.

According to the story of Callis and Miss Marshall it seemed a case of the occupants of the car paying more attention to each other than to the road. They had not seen each other for several years and were having a happy visit as Miss Marshall took Callis for a drive after his recent arrival from the east. As they approached a sharp turn where the grade is rather steep the car skidded on the gravel of the new paving, jumped the 10-inch curb and went down the bank. The car turned over and brought up against the Olson house after Mr. Olson had made a hasty retreat from his perch on the ladder. The occupants escaped with minor bruises, and the car was taken to Los Angeles by an auto club tow car next day.

Auto Bandits Working Near Sierra Madre

Arthur Tarrant of Sierra Madre is the latest victim of motor bandits working in this vicinity. He was held up Sunday morning about three o'clock just after turning north on Sierra Madre avenue from the Foothill boulevard.

Tarrant's assailants were young fellows without masks, who drove a Willys-Knight car. They gave every indication of experience in their method of relieving him of $50 in cash.

Hurrying on to Sierra Madre, Tarrant notified Night Deputy Jay Adelmyer, who is his relative. Marshal Udell also went to work on the case. No direct tract was found, but the Pasadena police were found to be looking for a similar pair who have been working in that city.

OPEN SATURDAY NIGHT AT THE HARDWARE CO

The Sierra Madre Hardware Co., has begun the practice of keeping open Saturday evenings until eight. This is for the special accommodation of commuters and business men to whom the week end affords their only chance to tinker around home, and the evening the only chance to buy things at Sierra Madre stores. "While I believe in reasonably long vacations and short working hours," said Mr. Griebenow, president of the company, "I feel that we must recognize the peculiar needs of our patrons and serve them according to their requirements and convenience. It is up to the stores of Sierra Madre to give them every inducement of good service and opportunity to buy at home before making complaint about trade going elsewhere. For that reason I am opposed to further Saturday closing at any season of the year. On Saturdays we will remain open until eight in the evening."

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Cole expect to leave next Monday for their home in Maine. For the past six weeks they have been visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. LeFer of 48 Esperanza avenue, Mrs. LeFer being their daughter. They have found Southern California full of interest and enjoyment.

First Motion Picture House Opening Soon

The Wistaria theater will open with its first program about Feb. 1, according to announcement of the proprietor, Mason Brown, giving Sierra Madre its first real motion picture house. Alterations to the building at 87 West Central are being rushed by Mr. Brown and a corps of workmen, and a delightfully cosy, attractive theater is promised.

Daily change of films, with two programs each evening and Saturday matinee are planned by Mr. and Mrs. Brown. Nothing but high class films will be shown. They will not contract for a special service but will reserve the power to make their own selections, thus securing a better grade of films and preventing any chance of objectionable programs being forced upon the Sierra Madre public.

"We may have to experiment awhile to find just what the people of Sierra Madre want," said Mr. Brown yesterday. "We realize they are above the average in intelligence and taste and want to give them the best obtainable. The arrangement of our programs will require some experimenting also, especially in regard to matinees. I would prefer not to have any Sunday shows and will not compete with Sunday church services. I may run Sunday matinees with specially appropriate films, but that is something to be decided later."

"From the many expressions of approval which we have received I am very hopeful for the success of our enterprise. We want to be a part of the community and work up a business which will be a credit to the city."

The house will have a capacity of 300 chairs. The floor has been lowered at the stage end, giving a suitable incline for clear vision of stage and screen. Inspection of the underpinning shows support which apparently could not be broken down by any weight which could be piled upon it. Three exits will be provided for safety as well as every other provision making for security and comfort of patrons.

Further announcement of the opening will be published next week.

WOMEN TOPIC OF HOT DEBATE

Fifty-two men attended the dinner given by the Men's Community Club at the Congregational church Tuesday evening. An election of officers was held following the dinner. The men elected were: E. E. Bacon, who succeeds Dennis H. Stovall as president; E. D. Burbank, who succeeds W. S. Hull as vice president, and Victor C. Hill, who succeeds DeWitt T. Jones as secretary and treasurer.

The entertainment of the evening was furnished by Ivan Munson, who gave some delightful musical numbers, and Dr. William A. Tate and Dean W. C. Shaw, who acted as exponent and opponent, respectively, of the question, Resolved: That the man is the ruler of his household.

Though he had nothing but praise for womankind, Dr. Tate maintained that the man should rule the home, on the grounds that man was given dominion over the earth and being created first was in possession of the earth and that it was up to him to maintain this privilege. He suggested that it was better for woman to be the neck, because the neck always moves the head. Dean Shaw argued that it was the rule of Woman that made for better things and pointed that if men had been head of the home up to the present time, in view of present conditions, it was high time he turned the job over to someone else. The Dean said that he knows of only one ideal home and Mrs. Shaw was the ruler of it.

The Modern Priscillas will meet at the home of Miss Edith Blumer, 247 N. Baldwin Ave., on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 24.

HELP NEEDED FOR ELECTRIC SIGN PROJECT

Contributions for the electric signs to be placed over the Foothill Boulevard at the foot of Baldwin and Sierra Madre Avenues are coming in regularly, according to the announcement of President Dennis Stovall of the Chamber of Commerce.

It is the plan to put committees in the field in the near future to collect the balance necessary to place and maintain these signs.

It is desired to make the project a town-wide affair irrespective of organization affiliations, as it is for the good and convenience of every resident. To lighten the burden on the committees it is requested that all send in their donations to the Chamber of Commerce or hand them to any of the directors of the organization. It is desirable to get the signs installed at an early date so as to get in effective advertising for our community with the winter influx of new settlers in Southern California.

The Chamber of Commerce urges you to do it now and save the time of your fellow citizens who will do the soliciting.

W.M. Stewart and family of Pennville, Ind., have taken an apartment at Bella Vista Terrace for their annual winter outing. Mr. Stewart is a business associate of A. M. Jones who has been visiting his brother, C. W. Jones since New Year's day.

Pasadena Is Coming This Way Rapidly

With the sale of the 17-acre lemon grove at the northeast corner of Santa Anita boulevard and Huntington drive north of Lamanda Park, the last of the famous Lambert ranch was disposed of last week. The sale was made by C. J. Pegler, manager of the land department of the Ellis Bishop Co., to Pasadena interests for subdivision purposes. It is understood the price of the 17 acres was $75,000.

Sierra Madre people have followed the fortunes of that lemon grove with keen interest. As the commuters passed it they watched its planting, enjoyed its fine growth, and almost wept when it was damaged by frost or wind. Now they will have a new interest in watching it cut up and improved along with the rest of the acreage between Pasadena and Sierra Madre which is filling up so rapidly.

SIERRA MADRE BILLIONAIRE CARRIES WAD

Fred C. Herrmann is a billionaire, possibly Sierra Madre's first one. Contrary to the practice of most billionaires and their poor millionaire relations, he carries his wad with him and will show it to anyone interested, even a reporter! He just acquired his fortune the other day in a letter from a friend in Germany who sent him a billion mark note. At the time he received it the purchasing power was about sufficient to buy a loaf of bread.

THIRD DEGREE NEXT TUESDAY

The degree of Master Mason will be conferred at the meeting of Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408 next Tuesday night, according to announcement of the master of the lodge, E. L. Yerxa. Visiting members of the fraternity are cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rappenecher and daughter, Miss Marie, and Mr. Frank Fracken, of Burlington, Iowa, who are spending the winter in Southern California, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Pinkerton on Santa Anita Court, the week end.

Masonic Lodge Installation Is Impressive

Members and guests who packed the Masonic hall witnessed the annual installation of officers of Sierra Madre Lodge N. 408 Tuesday night and enjoyed a delightful social occasion. The installation ceremony was made unusually impressive by Dr. S. E. Burke, Past Grand Master of California, and Will H. Fisher, Past Grand Orator, who officiated as installing officer and master of ceremonies, respectively.

Both men delivered short addresses which combined sparkling humor and wholesome philosophy in a delightful way. Mr. Fisher spoke of the need for a rethinking and restatement of beliefs in forms to which all can subscribe who are anxious for truth and recognize it when they see it. He pointed hopefully to the efforts of leaders in religious and scientific thought to find a common basis for the statement of beliefs in which there should be no conflict.

Dr. Burke gave an inspiring application of the tenets of Masonry in relation to every-day life. He pointed out the spirit of the times in its quest for spiritual leadership and the value of whatever will cause men to think along these lines and to put their beliefs into practice in human relationships.

Brief remarks were made by the incoming master of the lodge, E. L. Yerxa; D. C. Ashmore, senior warden, and H. E. Allen, junior warden. On behalf of the lodge the latter presented to George B. Morgridge, the retiring master, a past master's jewel in the form of a beautiful pendant charm. He responded by expressing his deep appreciation for the splendid support and cooperation of the members of the lodge during his year in office.

The remainder of the evening was spent with dancing and cards in the club house, the music by Foster's orchestra of Los Angeles being especially enjoyable.

SCHOOL PUPIL TO GET MEDAL

Mr. Woodson Jones, the popular business man of North Baldwin avenue, is intensely interested in schools and more particularly in our local schools. He was one of the donors of prizes in the recent essay contest and now has promised to donate a gold medal at the June commencement to that boy or girl in the Eighth grade who has the best all around record. The only things that will not count toward the prize are good looks and fine clothes. If a larger number of men and women manifested this same interest in the education of our children, what a splendid inspiration they would have toward character building and the largest use of their educational opportunities.

EASTERN STAR MEETS MONDAY

At the regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star next Monday night several candidates will be received into the chapter. Last Monday night at the annual visit of the Grand Matron to the Hollywood chapters the Sierra Madre chapter was represented by Mrs. George B. Morgridge, matron; Dr. Gilbert S. Bovard, patron; Mrs. Muskrath, Mrs. Dickinson, Mrs. Milton Steinberger and Mr. Morgridge.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. McComb of Los Angeles are occupying the Arthur Carter residence on East Algeria for the winter. They are very delighted with Sierra Madre. Mr. Carter and his daughter, Annetta, have removed to the Gilmore Court in Sierra Madre Canyon Park.

Mrs. T. E. Yerxa returned home this week after a lengthy stay in Oakland with her daughter, Mrs. Duff.

WHO MUST FILE INCOME TAX

I am a single man and earned in wages $1,000 during 1923. Do I have to file a return and form must
I use?

You must file a return on the small form, 1040-A, although you will have no tax to pay. You are entitled to a personal exemption of $1,000.

I am a married man and have two dependent children. My salary in 1923 was $2,400, and my only other income was $110, interest received from a note. My taxes were $212.
Must I file a return?

You will have a non-taxable return
but you must file on Form 1040-A,
the small one. You are entitled to $2,500 personal exemption and $400
for each of your children. Your taxes are deductible.

I am married but separated from my wife. Both of us are wage earners. Do we file separate returns and what personal exemption are we entitled to?

If you were living apart on December 31, 1923, you may file separate returns. If your incomes were derived principally from salaries or wages and not more than $5,000 net
each, use Form 1040-A. As you are living apart from your wife both of you are classed as single persons,
and entitled to a personal exemption
of $1,000 each.

My income in 1923 came from salary
and from rents on several houses
I own. It amounted in all to $3,400.
I am married. What form shall I use?

You should file on the larger Form 1040. Taxpayers, any part of whose income, regardless of the amount, is derived from business or profession,
farming, sale of property or rents,
must use this form.

Who must use Form 1040-A in making a return?

Form 1040-A is to be used by the taxpayer whose net income, not in excess of $5,000, was derived chiefly from salaries and wages. It may also include interest received.

Who must use Form 1040?

Persons any part of whose income
for 1923 was derived from business or profession, farming, sale of property, or rents, regardless of the amount of income, must use Form 1040. In all cases where net income was in excess of $5,000, this form must be used.

What form must the average salaried
man or wage-earner use?

Form 1040-A, the small one, if the net income was $5,000 or less. This form covers income from salaries and wages and interest received. It meets the requirements of the average man or woman working on a salary or wage basis.

I am a stenographer, unmarried,
and keep house and support my widowed mother. My salary is $2,100.
Must I file?

Although you are entitled to a personal exemption of $2,500, as the head of a household, you must file a return. It will be non-taxable.

Who must file a return?

Every married person whose net income for 1923 was $2,000 or more, or whose gross income was $5,000 or more, and every single person whose net income was $1,000 or more, or whose gross income was $5,000 or more, must file a return. The fact that, by reason of personal exemptions and credits, a person's income is not taxable does not nullify the requirement to file a return if the income equals or exceeds these specified amounts. Married persons who are separated are classed as single and must file returns if their net income was $1,000 or more.

Why were two forms, 1040-A and 1040 mailed to each taxpayer?

Forms for filing individual returns of income were sent to persons who filed returns for 1922. It being impossible to determine this year the form desired by the taxpayer—whether he be a man whose income was derived chiefly from salary or wages,
or from business, profession, or other taxable sources—the taxpayer received both forms, and is expected to select the form that will meet his income requirements.

What personal exemptions are allowed?

The personal exemption for married persons whose net income in 1923 was $5,000 or less, is $2,500. If this net income was in excess of $5,000 the exemption is $2,000. The exemption for single persons is $1,000. Whether married or single, the taxpayer is allowed a credit of $400 for each person dependent upon him for chief support, if such person is under 18 years of age or incapable of self support because of being mentally or physically defective. The head of a family—a person who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him
by blood relationship, relationship
by marriage or by adoption, is allowed the same exemption as a married person.

Internal Revenue)

When must I file my return?

Do it now and avoid the rush which begins February 1. It will save lots of time and the inconvenience of standing in a long line of taxpayers awaiting for their turn at the cashier's cage.

Collector of Internal Revenue, 218

SERMON WILL BE PUBLISHED AS PAMPHLET

There have been so many requests for Dr. Tate's sermon last Sunday that a limited number of copies have been printed and will be on sale in

Next Sunday morning Dr. Tate
will take for his topic, "As a Good Soldier of Jesus Christ," following up the suggestive address by Captain Cramer of California School of Technology at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

In the evening the address will be on "The Young Woman's Husband," the third of a series of addresses to young women. The church extends a warm invitation to the members of our community to attend these sermons. Miss Lenders of Los Angeles will sing.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Looking Ahead

LAST Spring a total of 350,000 people were disappointed in not being able to obtain deliveries of Ford Cars and Trucks, as orders were placed faster than cars could be produced.

The demand for Ford Cars and Trucks this Spring will, according to all indications, be far greater than last Spring.

Winter buying has been increasing at a greater rate than ever before.

Actual retail deliveries the past 60 days totaled 308,170 Ford Cars and Trucks, an increase of 1,961 a day over a year ago.

Over 200,000 people have already ordered Ford products on our purchase plan, the majority of whom will take delivery in the Spring.

The above facts are given with the suggestion that you list your order promptly with a Ford dealer if you contemplate the purchase of a Ford Car or Truck for use this Spring or Summer and wish to avoid delay in delivery.

Opening New Rooms

Wednesday, Oct. 23, will mark the opening of the Wistaria room at the Woman's club house and the program planned for that day is one of unusual beauty. The club house has been a hive of industry, the Art committee working on the decorations for the new room, the dramatic section deep in Shakespeare's lore, and it is hoped that all our townspeople with many of their friends will come to the club house on either afternoon or evening of the 23rd. Club members will be admitted on presentation of membership cards, non members upon payment of fifty cents and tax. Tickets on sale at Sierra Madre Electric Co., or Woodson F. Jones. Tea and coffee will be served in the Wistaria room and Shakespearean heroines will bid you welcome. Batiks and hand dyed fabrics will be exhibited by Mr. Rivers and the club house walls enriched by many beautiful things loaned for this occasion.

Leap Year Dance

Miss Mattie Seeley, chairman of the dance committee for January 25, reports that in addition to the dancing, tables for cards are to be placed in the Wistaria room far enough from the music so that it will in no way interfere with the card players. Refreshments will be served and it is hoped that many will attend. Tickets are 55 cents.

Day Nursery Aided

The funds of the day nursery committee were augmented to the extent of about $100 through the efforts of the committees in charge of hospitality at the club luncheon of Jan. 9, and Civic Association dinner of the 14th inst. Mrs. Blakeslee handled the luncheon and Mrs. Lawless the dinner. To them both much credit is due.

New Memberships

The second half of the current year is at hand and efforts are being made to increase the club membership. Reciprocity Day is set for February 13 and one who signifies her desire to join the club this year may do so upon payment of the initiation fee and half yearly dues at any time after Feb. 1, thereby benefiting by the Reciprocity program at which time many people interesting to clubdom will be here.

The Wistaria stationery is proving an attractive advertising medium for Sierra Madre and carries its message of the beauty and charm of our foothill town far and wide. Artistic post cards are being prepared and will soon be placed on sale wherever post cards are distributed. The cut which is being used is one made by a photographer sent out by Mr. Linnard and the picture was used in "California Life" published in the interests of the Linnard chain of hotels and circulated throughout the east in their advertising program. This cut has been presented to the club by Mrs. H. T. Fennel.

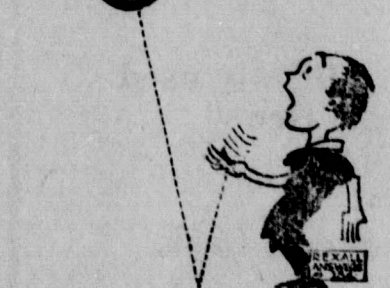

Mrs. Martha Butsch is making a plea for the starving children of Germany and asks that contributions to help alleviate their sufferings be sent to her at 193 West Central avenue.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been presented to the Board of Trustees for a permit to erect a Mausoleum and other buildings on the property now operated and known as the Sierra Madre Cemetery and adjacent property.

A public hearing on this petition will be held at the City Hall on January 24th, 1924, at 7 o'clock p. m. By order of the Board of Trustees. L. DEITZ, City Clerk. January 10th, 1924.

CITIZENSHIP ESSAY CONTEST PRIZE WINNERS

Following are the four prize winning essays read at the meeting of the Civic Association Monday night by pupils of the Sierra Madre Grammar school, the contest having been arranged by Dr. William A. Tate.

How to Become a Good Citizen of Sierra Madre

My greatest ambition is to become a good citizen and I must obey and uphold laws. I must be careful of automobile laws, too, as they are just as important.

I should be an optimist and a good booster for my town.

As a good citizen I ought to take the town paper and join in community gatherings. If we patronize our home stores we will be able to keep our wealth in our own town.

I should meet my new neighbors and stop and speak in a friendly manner to all all friends and acquaintances when I meet them.

I should be wide awake to new ideas and projects.

When my friend succeeds in an undertaking I should praise him, as he will appreciate encouragement.

My town will be what I make it and will be a good place to live in if I make it so.

Schools and public institutions should interest me. Above all my home must be kept tidy, as my neighbor will perhaps follow my example. Visitors are first impressed by the appearances of the homes and the surroundings.

FRANCES MOOTE.

Second Prize

Sierra Madre, the picturesque little village robed in the beauty of nature and nestled at the foot of the majestic mountains, seems, to one traversing its streets and seeing always familiar faces and objects, like a great family—and one cannot but rejoice to be a members of such a family.

If one is to become a member, he must be law-abiding, for every family must have its rules and every city its laws.

He must respect the rights of others and not endanger their lives, nor his own, by carelessness or lack of forethought.

He must enter into the spirit of the community in which he lives, and prevent disease as much as possible, from entering the community, by keeping all around him clean and in good order; help those who are in trouble or distress, and give to those who are in need.

He will then be a good citizen and worthy of setting an example to those around him, of what a good citizen of Sierra Madre should be.

OLIVE SEDGMAN.

Third Prize

The greatest inheritance I have is that I am an American citizen. And to be a good citizen I must obey the laws whether I like them or not.

In obeying automobile laws I must be especially careful about going slowly around corners and in the school districts.

By being an optimist I will enjoy life more and my friends will too.

I must boost my town and join in the community affairs and gatherings. Buying from local stores instead of going out of town will keep the wealth in Sierra Madre.

My duty is to keep my house, yard and surroundings attractive. Someone else will be influenced to do the same thing probably. At least I would not be a good citizen if I caused my neighbor trouble and inconvenience.

If I speak to and become acquainted with all the new comers I will help to make them feel at home and happy.

To be a live up to date citizen and to have a live, up to date town I should keep up with and be interested in all new and good ideas and boost them.

Remember that Sierra Madre will be a good place to live in if we do our part to make it so.

JEANETTA YERXA.

Fourth Prize

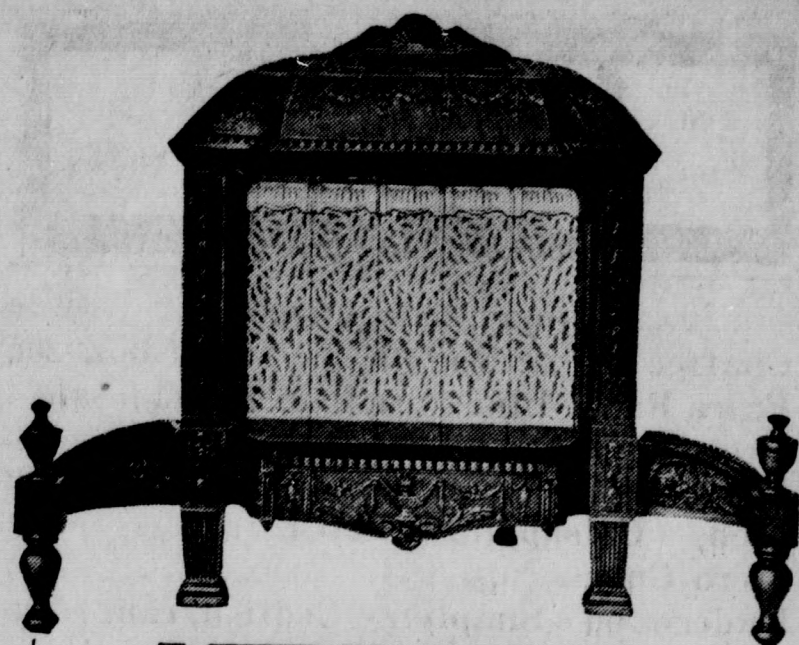

To be a good citizen of Sierra Madre, or of any other community, one must first of all keep all the laws enacted by the government. This obeying of laws must begin at home. Then our schools and high schools fit us as voters to help enact laws as well as keep them. One must register and then vote at every election called by our community.

The good looks of a community is very essential. Every person should have a well-kept home and grounds. A good citizen is interested in all activities pertaining to our city and country.

He gives personal as well as financial aid to all organizations within his city.

He always speaks well of his city and he looks for the good in it rather than the bad.

LOCAL POULTRY WINNERS AGAIN

At the Los Angeles Poultry show last week, which was the largest ever held on the east, rivalling that at the San Francisco exposition, Sierra Madre poultry won new laurels. Henry C. Turcks' Black Javas won all the honors that could be heaped upon them and the Columbian Wyandottes exhibited by Wm. E. Kennedy and Mrs. Allen of West Highland Ave., made almost a clean sweep, taking five first and two second prizes. No use to send east for fine poultry as long as Sierra Madre and Pasadena exhibitors continue to develop birds of such a class.

FOREIGN CARS
ARE PASSING
FROM MARKET

(By Edsel D. Ford, President of the Lincoln Motor Co. Division of the Ford Motor Co.)

While for many years the average American car owner has looked up to the foreign built automobile as being the finest example of coach work and automobile production in the world, the United States is now recognized as being the home of finer automobile creations than any other country may point to.

The Lincoln car is a typical example of this fact. It is the policy of this company to build the finest car that the tremendous resources of the Ford Motor company will allow. This means that the finest materials and engineering talent will go into the making of the Lincoln, and this fact is being recognized abroad, as well as in this country.

The market in the United States for foreign built cars is slowly passing. Today the vast majority of the Americans are forsaking the European cars and turning to home made products. Patriotism alone is not responsible for this, as when a man buys an expensive priced car he buys for value, and the business man has been convinced that such value is built into the Lincoln.

One of the primary reasons why the European manufacturer cannot compete with the American manufacturer is that the field abroad for sales of higher priced cars is distinctly limited. They cannot afford to employ thousands of workmen and produce thousands of cars per year. They have not market for this number and as a result a great deal of work is done by hand. American demand for large numbers of cars has taught us how to make better cars by machinery than Europe can turn out by hand.

All these factors combine to give value in the car made on this side of the Atlantic, at a lower price. It is true that there are many excellent foreign built automobiles, but comparing them for appearance, value and cost with such a product as the Lincoln, will show anyone how far superior American automobile manufacturers have become.

Pronounced Attitude.

When a strapping youth prefers jerking soda at $10 a week to earning $14 a day laying brick, he may be said to have a pronounced attitude toward real work.

Only a Rumor.

"She's going about telling everyone that I committed suicide and she knows I've never done such a thing as that in all my life," said a woman at court.

Suspicion.

It is hardly possible to suspect another, without having in one's self the seeds of baseness the party is accused of.

22, at 7:30, in the kindergarten building. The mothers who have worked untiringly for the good of the community through the touch of the P. T. A., on every home, feel that it is no more than right and just that they should have the hearty co-operation of every father in the continuation of this good work.

At the beginning of the school year in September, 1922, the association opened a lunch room where the children might have a warm lunch for a small price and milk at the 10 o'clock recess. The lunch enterprise has never entirely paid all of its expenses as many needy children have received free milk and lunch tickets. Parents who have healthy growing children can hardly realize what it means to a poor, hard working woman to know that her little kiddies have their bottle of milk and a warm lunch which she could not afford to provide. There are more of this class than most people have any realization of.

Receipts of the lunch room thus far this school year are $1025.91,
while the disbursements are $1077.29,
leaving a deficit of $51.38 which the P. T. A., has to meet. The only income of the association is the small annual membership fee of 50 cents.
We very much regret to say that only 75 persons have enrolled this year.

Every person in Sierra Madre should be a member, whether they have children in this school or not,
and in this way give their financial support to the good women who are doing all in their power to help the community at large.

A most pleasing program has been arranged for the entertainment of the fathers. Miss Laura Cadmus, whom everyone in Sierra Madre is delighted to hear, will give several vocal numbers and Mrs. H. W. Glidden will please her many friends
with cornet solos.

George Staats, Arts and Crafts
department of the Vocational school of Pasadena, will give an interesting talk on the work carried on there.
Few parents of Sierra Madre know of the splendid work done in these vocational schools. Mr. Staats' address will no doubt be instructive as well as entertaining. The Boy Scouts will give a short exhibition of their work and several community songs to be enjoyed by the entire company will conclude the program.

Come, everyone. Bring your friends and let's make this the best meeting
the Sierra Madre P. T. A. has ever had.

New Officers Appointed

The Executive Board of the P. T.
A. regret very much to announce that Mrs. Fred Griebenow has been forced to resign the presidency of the P. T. A. on account of the illness Mrs. Marie Stanley, who as vice president has filled Mrs. Griebenow's chair, feeling the work more than she could carry in addition to her school duties, also resigned the vice presidency.

The board appointed Mrs. F. L.
Roess to fill the president's chair for the remainder of the year, Mrs. Tom Henderson that of vice president and Mrs. Marie Stanley that of secretary.

As it is hard for new officers to take up and carry on work begun
by others, the board is very sure that all members of the association will assist these new officers in every way possible that the year's work may be a great success.

MRS. R. A. MCKINLEY.

FRIENDSHIP GARDENS ARE TIMELY NOW

The following letter addressed to the president of the Woman's Club is submitted as a very practical and in many ways desirable suggestion
for city beautification:

Dear Mrs. Lawless: Does anyone in Sierra Madre except ourselves have a "Friendship Garden?" I value mine beyond what my grandmother did her precious "friendship quilt" and can tell who gave me each cutting and tiny seedling which are now blossoming into plants, just as she could tell which friend gave her the scraps of cotton or woolen or silk for her wonderful quilt.

Last March Mrs. Anderson gave us great cuttings for the row of beautiful poinsettia which we now enjoy.
Mrs. Jones gave us the tiny century plant I wanted so much, also chrysanthemums. Mrs. Wright gave us rows of white and purple iris. Dr.
Thomas gave us petunia plants. Mrs.
Smith gave lobelia which made such a dainty bed. A short-time neighbor whose name I never knew gave the red and pink geraniums which we value for their winter cheer and because of the care it took to grow
them in our Iowa home. Mrs. Snell gave shrubs. Mrs. Carter begonias, Mrs. Jack Mitchell gave a great piece of spineless cactus, Mr. Carter Chinese lilies and freesia bulbs; Mr.
Fennel gave us an oleander and a wistaria from the "wonder vine. And some day, perhaps in my old age, I am going to gather avocados from a tree grown from a seed saved from the Lawless tree whose product is most delicious.

If we could get "friendship gardens" started it might brighten some barren spots in Sierra Madre.

Our Woman's Club might do as did the Corvallis Woman's Club—
have an exchange of our surplus bulbs and cuttings for a week during planting time. Or we might charge a few cents for the bulbs, the proceeds to go to the club building fund. One member of our club told me she threw away each year a wagon load of cuttings and bulbs, a waste, surely, when there are so many places waiting to be planted.

I want you to know Mrs. Lawless, how much I enjoyed the last program. I was glad to hear Frederick Palmer and I especially enjoyed Miss Peycke's dear little pianologues, also her lovely personality.

Now don't credit me with a new idea—I am only passing on an old one.

Sincerely,

Mrs. D. H. STOVALL
